Star Rating Explanation

For us the review is very important, remember to always do it carefully.

Booking has a different system from Airbnb.

About 48 hours after your stay, a message will arrive from Booking inviting you to leave a review with an overall score from 1 to 10 to evaluate your stay experience.

You can decide to give a single overall rating from 1 to 10, which will be the one that will totally impact the review.

Very negative experience
The accomodation is different from the one in the photo, seriously lacking cleanliness, rude host, missing or non-working appliances. Total disaster, sometimes requiring complaint.

Acceptable experience but with many problems
This accomodation is acceptable, some problems found, average cleanliness, some broken objects or not working. A normal holiday could have gone much better, or much worse

Excellent and satisfying experience
This accomodation is exactly like the one seen in the ad, everything works, cleanliness between very good and excellent, no problems or small things that can easily be overcome, friendly and helpful host. A holiday that will remain in your heart

If you have time, you can also evaluate other services and details of the structure, such as:

Cleanliness, Comfort, Value for money, Services, Location, Staff.

These aspects and their scores are optional and do not affect the review score, but they can help us improve our work.
